One-Year Psychoanalytic Seminar Series
October through May, 2018-2019

This year, the seminar will be studying the concept of narcissism. We will read Freud's original paper and the writings of contemporary authors representing various schools of thought, countries of origin, and points of view. Through these writings, we will examine the evolution of the theory and the contribution it has made to the field of psychoanalysis.

Seminars will be held in Burlington, Vermont on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month from 7:00 -8:30 PM.

The seminar will be limited to 14 participants and will be filled in order of registration.

We will offer CEUs for psychologists, mental health counselors and social workers.
